The beautiful Šilheřovice Golf Resort is located in the castle park with centuries-old trees, dominated by the Rothschild Castle, Neptune's Fountain and other cultural monuments. It is the only full eighteen-hole parkland course in Central Europe, and is only 15 minutes from the centre of Ostrava. The gently undulating terrain, the pleasant shade of the trees, the symbiosis of nature, fairways and greens, allow you to enjoy golf with all your senses. The course requires a well-thought-out strategy and precise play, where accuracy and a feel for the game are more important than the length of the shots. This is one of the reasons why the course regularly hosts top competitions. The newly-renovated historic Palmenhaus Clubhouse illustrates the uniqueness of the resort. The golf club is the third oldest in the Czech Republic and the oldest in Moravia, where it has been operating since 1968.

Some of the courses are actually among the oldest in the country. In the Moravian-Silesian Region, you can find a golf course with a mining tower converted into a lookout point and a course at the foot of mountains surrounded by beautiful views. Six championship courses await you in this fantastic region, all within 40 kilometres of each other. You can enjoy the game on high-quality courses with views of mountains, parks and industrial heritage. Few regions in the Czech Republic can boast such a rich golf infrastructure.

Northern Moravia is also one of the greenest parts of the country, yet features good transport accessibility by car, train and plane. In addition to quality golf experiences, there are many tourist attractions waiting for you. The Beskydy and Jeseníky Mountains offer trails for hiking, cycling and downhill, as well as cross-country skiing. The region has a rich cultural and industrial heritage. In Ostrava, you can visit the internationally unique Dolní Vítkovice complex, where coal was mined and pig iron produced between 1828 and 1998. Now this industrial complex has been transformed into a unique educational, cultural and social centre with the unique Bolt Tower offering fantastic views from the top of a blast furnace. You can also visit historical gems such as the Hradec nad Moravicí, Bruntál, Hukvaldy and Sovinec castles and châteaux. The region hosts many important museums and galleries, and the Plato gallery of contemporary art also opened in 2022. The entire region is easily accessible from the nearby airports in Vienna, Brno, Ostrava, Krakow and Katowice.
